SUBJECT: 2010 Training Workshop for DoD Natural Resources Professionals

Each year, the National Military Fish and Wildlife Association (NMFWA) conducts a Training Workshop for DoD Natural Resources Professionals. This workshop provides an excellent opportunity for DoD personnel specializing in fish and wildlife management to meet and discuss challenges and solutions to managing these resources. It also affords an opportunity for DoD natural resource managers to meet with counterparts from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) and State fish and wildlife agencies who work on Sikes Act issues and many other areas of common concern.

This year's Training Workshop (Agenda attached) will be held on March 22-26, 2010, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in conjunction with the 75th North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference. This year, NMFWA will offer two Legacy-sponsored training events, a half-day Climate Change Tools Workshop for Adapting Management Strategies and a full day Advanced Sikes Act Workshop. A third workshop will explore DoD-Forest Service Partnerships. Additional NMFWA technical presentations will include sessions on DoD and Conservation NGO Partnerships, Bat Conservation, International Migratory Bird Conservation, International Wildlife and Habitat Conservation Initiatives, Wildlife Research Supporting Integrated Natural Resources Management Plans (INRMPs), and INRMP Conservation Tools.

In 2008, the NMFWA began offering certification as a "Certified Military Natural Resources Professional (CMNRP)." This certification provides formal recognition of an employee's education and experience as military natural resources professional. Certification also provides a clear indication that the certified individual recognizes that the primary purpose of DoD land management is to support military training and readiness. The annual NMFWA training workshop meets CMNRP continuing education requirements.

Additional information on the NMFWA program is available at http://nmfwa.org/2010\_Meeting/index.cfm. Information on the North American Conference is at <http://www.wildlifemanagementinstitute.org>.

I would appreciate your support in informing your personnel about this conference and workshop and encouraging appropriate participation. If you have any questions, please contact Mr. Peter Boice at 703-604-0524.
